“ One of my favorite memories, RA camping trip on the river. There was a chill in the air Danon decided to heat things up by throwing a gallon of fuel on the camp fire lit up the whole island. Wayne came down the next morning and one of the boys told Wayne what Danon had done. Well Wayne was talking rather sternly to him, Danon started running down the pier to get away Wayne told him to come back Danon laughed (wrong move) Wayne started running after him pulling his belt off. Danon jumped in the water if you could only see Danon's face when Wayne jumped in the water right behind all the way to the bank Danon was regretting his last decision!
