“My big brother Andrew was larger than life to me for much of my childhood. He was a star athlete and very popular in school. He was also the first person and our family to graduate from high school and attend college. He graduated from the University of West Florida with a degree in economics while working full time as a sales rep with the 3M company. He was always very motivated to succeed and became a successful business person.

Andrew shared his love of sports with me during our childhood. We use to watch football and baseball games together with our dad. Andrew would take me outside and teach me the fundamentals of both football and baseball. He often had an impromptu clinic with me and my friends in the front yard. My friends use to look up to him and I was very proud to tell people I was his younger brother. I never had much self confidence as a child as I was very self-conscious of my severe stutter. Andrew was very supportive and tried to encourage me and build my self-confidence. This is something I will never forget.

Andrew had a big impact on me. He helped me develop goals and self-confidence. I am so thankful that he was by brother. I am also thankful that I was able to express my gratitude to him during my most recent visits. May he rest in peace.
