“ Amaya Studdard~omg Apryl was my best friend ever. i miss her so much! i remember meeting her for the first time when i was in the 5th and she was in the 6th grade. she was very pretty smart and beautiful. i remember going skating with her and she skated backwards with me. i remember seeing her at church on wednesdays. she always took up for me when i needed her to and she was always there for me when i needed her. i wish she was still here with me to keep me safe and to tell me more stories and making me smile and laugh when i am sad. i miss the memorie with u at church the wednesday before u died u made me laugh so much. i miss our talks and your voice. i miss giving u my cookies at church. it's not the same without u. i miss going to the movie with u with the church and we shared the popcorn and we laughed through the movie lol! She told me she really loved Mason and that's all she talked about so u could see she cared. she always hugged me when she got off the church bus and told me she would see me next time. she told me we was going to take a pic but we didn't get to but that's okay. i remember when my cousin gave Apryl a pack of gum and i made Apryl share the gum with me or like the time she turned the lights off at church and my cousin said this funny thing and we all started laughing and the time at the movies when she chose to sit by me and share the popcorn with me. i miss the time she helped me up when i fell and she gave me a hug before i went to the hospital. and when i stepped on her feet and she yelled ouch!. i miss you so much girl and i lovelssss you best friend/big sis! #flyhighbigsis #flyhighbabygirl #flyhighApryl. see you soon or someday! please save me a place up there in Heaven!

“ I remember us being in Ms. Phillips class in 4th grade. We sat together when we would have small groups at the "U" table for comprehension and reading. I remember us sitting together in the Library when we got our rewards for selling the magazines. Apryl had the little radio thing where she was listening to music and she was telling me that she likes country music. We would play together in PE. We were in Dancing thought the Decades together when we danced to Ice Ice baby. I wish we had have had more classes together after that. I am so thankful that I still saw you in the hallway at school. Even this year I saw you I think every day, even this past Friday. Apryl was a beautiful, loving, joyful girl that I love and miss very much. I really wish you were still here, but we have to treasure the memories we have together. 💙💙💙

“ Apryl was in my second grade class at Oxford Elementary School. She always came to school with a sweet smile on her face and was eager to learn every day. I will never forget the sweet hugs she gave me each day. She will always hold a very special place in my heart. May you feel God's comfort and love during this difficult time.
