Faye was a woman of many talents and interests whose strong work ethic carried her through a variety of careers. She first retired from the textile industry where she served on the executive board for Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and just last year Arlie retired for the second time from the position she was most passionate about, serving clients as the owner of S&A Caregivers. Throughout her life she wore many hats, working as a wedding and event planner, photographer, developer of crime scene photographs for law enforcement, cosmetologist, and co-owner of A&S Antiques. Her versatility, dedication, mischievous nature, and entrepreneurial spirit left a lasting impact on all who knew her. Faye was a member of Golden Springs Baptist Church where she was active in the Legacy Senior Group, and she loved her Sunday School class members.

Because of Arlie's 4th of July birthdate, her passionate temperament, and the fact that she always added her own special "flare" to every family gathering, her nieces Marilyn, Suddie, and Deb Lipscomb nicknamed her Aunt "Firecracker Faye."

The family would like to offer a special thank you to Anita Brown for her excellent care of Arlie. The family would also like to thank Dr. Michael Hanna, Nurse Sharon Taylor, Enhabit Hospice Company, especially Carson Wills, Dr. Glaze, Dr. Rayburn, and sitters Roxie Teague, Robin Banks, and Elysea Groce.
