“ It is hard for me to share any particular memory of my mother, as there were so many fond memories. I think more so than any one memory or any one day I will remember my mother's soul and beliefs. My mother taught me to be kind, to love, and to care for others. I believe that is the most important part of her legacy. I have striven and will continue to strive to live my life by the principles my mother laid down for me early in life.

Love, kindness, and caring. I think these three words summarize my mother, better than any other words could.

I will love you forever and always. I am thankful you have found peace at last, and though I will miss your mortal presence, I will truly never be without you.

“ My dad asked me to share a post from my mother regarding one of her niece's. It high lights my mother's kindness and heart:

I dedicate this song to my beautiful niece Ashley Elizabeth Swafford Belden. This song says it all for me. My daughter at nine months old took her first steps into your arms and I remember your beautiful smile and laughter on that day. Now you have taken flight into your mother's arms my sister Donna Kay Swafford. You will live forever in my heart full of memories.

The song is "Jealous of the Angels".

“ Dear BB. I hope you're having fun in heaven. I hope you feel better and I'll never forget you. I love you to the moon and back and I miss you down here on earth. I loved when we slept together and ate together. I'm very sad you're gone. You're my angel. I'm your puppy.
Love, Sienna.

Dear BB. I hope you're having fun in heaven. I hope God fixes you up. I hope you always remember us. I love you to the whole galaxy and back and the highest point and over heaven too. I loved when we watched tv together. You're my angel. I'm your puppy.
Love, Jax

“ A memory of a Mother is so much more than a recollection. A memory of my Mother is a forever feeling. A feeling of being loved, cared for, cherished, and nurtured. So many actions conveyed these messages and feelings into my heart. I watched my Mother with my children and saw a glimpse of that perfect love between a Mother and child. My Mother would spend countless hours with my children crafting and spoiling them with candy. I think they may have had entire meals of skittles and coke. She loved the joy of making someone happy. My Mother showed her love in so many ways, but loved to give gifts and write notes to her loved ones. Most importantly, she gifted her heart. We recently stumbled upon a yearbook quote of hers, “A Heart is Gold”. These words are so true and she showed us her heart in so many ways. She was the heart of our family. We moved throughout our lives due to my Father’s job in the military. She made every single place a home for us. A different state...school...house...and yet I always knew I was at home because she was there. Thank you, Mom, for being my home.
Your loving daughter, Sabrina
