Barbara even though I can't be there you know I love you. We drifted apart over the years but that didn't mean we were not family. We were always just a phone call away. Now it more than just a phone call away. I'm so sorry that we never took the time to see each other more. I will miss you but I will see you again after while on the other side of Jordan. Until my precious cousin I love you dearly. Fly high and be happy and free.
