“ I have a picture of Mr. Kellum cutting his neighbors grass. He had rigged up his lawnmower to carry his walker. He was going through chemotherapy at the time.

No matter how bad he felt it never got in his way of helping others. He was joyous and faithful and never complained.

Mr. Kellum loved his family, his grandchildren and great grandchildren (bragging on them every chance he got), building and woodwork, his garden, fishing, his friends and The Lord.

Just being around him made you feel better- happy. He saw the positive in every negative situation and the best in every person.

We all had the best time when he built our house. He went along with every extravagance I could dream up and calmed Eddie down when he would grab his chest (in fake heart attack style) when he told him the cost of the new changes. He would say "That's a good price, Eddie" and we would all laugh.

He helped me through the darkest, horrible time of my life and probably never knew how much comfort he was. To say he will be missed is a huge understatement but knowing EXACTLY where he is, free from pain, is a great comfort.

We called him "The Man" . He is "The Best Man" we have ever known.

Sympathy, prayers and love to his family and friends.

“ Growing up in Trinity Mr. Kellum was always one of my favorites. He was such a humble Godly man. I would put him right there next to my granddad, and that is pretty high praise in my book. Praying for the family, see you later Mr. Kellum!
