“ In 1963 I had the honor of marrying Mary Lou a wonderful lady with two sons, Danny and Kevin. Over the years I had the joy of watching and helping them develop into manhood.
Today I picture Danny as a kid who loved making drawings, as a teenager working on his car whether it needed it or not, and then proudly in uniform serving our Country.
He was wounded in battle receiving a purple hearth and commendation for his bravery. He never bragged about it.
After discharge he worked as an aviation inspector thereby ensuring aviation safety to FAA regulations.
Dan was a very good and sincere man that loved his family above everything else.
Paula and family, he loved all ofyou and if only a slight consolation smile when you think of all the fun and funny crazy things he could do
Love, hugs and kisses. Stepgramp Niels

So sad to hear about his passing. Was friends with him since high school. We even met when we were in Vietnam together. Couldn't find a more faithful friend. Last time I talked to him was 94. RIP my friend.
