“ We had a pretty good childhood with the best Pop & Nanny in the world. Pop always made sure we had plenty of things to play with & to keep up busy. Being able to visit grandmothers, cousins & friends was an everyday part of our lives. We used our imaginations to make every day a fantasy. Over the years we had drifted apart but Donna's daughters managed to keep us in touch in the last few years. I am so glad for this. Donna raised 3 incredible daughters who grew to be incredible women. She was my little sister & will be missed by a lot of people who loved her.

“ My husband, Tim, and I stood with them at their wedding. I am Danny's oldest sister. Donna was welcomed into the Wise family, and they were happily married for 43 years. Donna, we love you and will miss your presence at our family gatherings. You fought the good fight!! Love you, Kathy

“ This is in memory of my very first BFF. Cousins always start out close, and as our families grow, we spread out and see and talk less, but we still can't forget those first years.

Our Moms were friends before we came along, and so it began. When we were little girls we played & stayed with our Grandma Woodard & Aunt Allie. We dug up dirt with spoons under the big tree in Grandma's, and sifted it through screen and made our own sand.

Once when we were 5 or 6, we decided that we were going to marry 2 cowboys (blond headed of course), and have us a ranch. On this ranch we were going to raise nothing but white horses. After that decision was made, we told Grandma that we needed a box, and we immediately started pulling grass from the yard and filled that box. We were saving it for the first meal for our White horses.

Oh for those innocent days.

We continued thru the years close. Always staying at each others house when out of school. I loved staying at their house because everything was always fun. I think Sandra & Van just put up with us.

One year Donna had to go to summer school, so just so I could stay most of the summer Aunt Vanita just packed me onto the school bus with her and sent me too!

We still were close during teen years, and Donna's first marriage. During my stupid years, I ran away from home and went directly to Donna's where they took me in.

We kind of lost touch during our child raising years, but have been able to reconnect some in the last few years, but not as much as I should have. I know, in Donna I really, truly had someone that loved me no matter what.

I still think about all the good times with Van, Sandra, & Donna and can smile. She told me of some unhappy times, but I know the last few times I talked to her & Danny they were as happy as they could be.

Goodbye Dear Friend..so glad to have you in my life.
