“ Some of the best memories I have of my Papa come from the simplest of moments. When I was younger my parents would take me over to my grandparent’s house early in the morning and my Papa would take me to school. He would make me breakfast each morning, which was typically one of two options, my favorite cereal with cut up banana or cheese toast. He always tried to fix my hair before school and I always complained about it to my nana later that day :) When I was a little older he took us fishing with him, and whenever we stayed for a few days during summer break he always made a point to pick up snacks and things he knew we liked. Each visit to my grandparent’s house included him sneaking me and my sister candy when my parents weren’t looking. He loved us so big through the minute details and the littlest of gestures. He was always a kind, loving Papa to us and I’m going to truly miss those moments with him but am so thankful for the time we had together. I love you Papa. I’m going to miss you so much but am grateful that you are with the Lord and free from the pain and suffering of this world.
