“ Little brother I met you late in life. When most people would have resisted knowing they had a older sister when they grew up the oldest, you excepted it with Grace and poise. I wasn't good at the big sister thing because I grew up the baby in my world. But I enjoyed the time we got to know about each other. And I will cherish the memories.

“ My big brother, I remember us three Boyd brothers playing together all day long. Before the days of cable tv and video games. We had water fights, broom twirling battles and movie character portrayals contest that lasted 8-9hrs until it was time for mom to come home and then it was all hands on deck to clean her house back up. I would do anything to have one of those days back again. Rest easy big brother your baby brother will always love and miss you until we meet again.
