“ Sydney was the type to always make someone smile, even if they were enemies. He always talked about old cars and how he was going to fix them. He was a amazing person all around. He saw me and my sister in need a couple times and always did his best to help out. He had a great heart, soul and personality. He could bright up a room just by walking in. You will be missed Sydney. I hope heaven has fast cars and old cars you can renew. Rest in paradise lil one.

“ Sydney and I were great friends in middle school, we cut ties after middle school due to him moving up into highschool and me being in eight grade. Sydney was always smiling always laughing always cracking jokes, I never once seen him with a frown on his face and was never down. He was so uplifting and energetic. I remember him coming over a couple times and we'd just hang out and play football in front of my house. I passed by him everyday after lunch and I always said hey. Sydney will be missed and his family are in my prayers.

“ Sydney was always smiling and helping those less fortunate than him. He was a good soul. A great person to always have around and lighten the mood. Sydney was always helping someone, didn't matter if you were his best friend or his worst enemy. He spread his love for the world and everyone around him in the best way possible. By giving, he always gave everything he had to anything that needed to be done. I have countless good memories of me and Sydney growing up together. Sydney was a good friend, family member, but most of all Sydney was a good man. The best of all of us.

“ It doesn't make any sense that someone would leave this world at 19 years old. Yet, it's happened and I'm sorry for the family's loss ... May the Lord bring comfort and peace during this time and the future. Also, a virtual Teddy bear may not be the right sentiment to send, but maybe it can bring a smile to someone when memories of yesteryears with Sydney flood in.
