“ Jennifer, Christopher, and Jessica...because he lived you three live...and are the joys of my life. Continue in the ways you have been taught, love and protect your own families, be a blessing to those that love you and that you love. Your Dad's memories will always be with you and so will I for as long as there is breath in me. I love you dearly and pray for you always. Broken hearts you have and this is a very sad time for you all. I wish I could say that time will heal a broken heart...but that would not be true. We learn to accept those things we cannot change, change the things we can, and pray for the wisdom only God can provide to us as we walk the life we have before us. Love each other and stay close to each other. Find comfort in each other's arms. Love Always, Mom

“ Such an awesome and gracious man who made Mack and me feel so welcome when we first visited the Small Group at Hunter Street and later when we went to their home for camaraderie and FOOD. The next Sunday he and Wrenette told us when you eat with us, it is time to join the class, and we did. Your smiling face, hope and love will be missed.

“ My deepest sympathy to the entire Weninegar family. James was one of a kind. He had a constant focus on improving results, processes, and people. And he did it in a way that made you want to be part of what he was doing. It was a real privilege to have worked with James on a number of projects over the years. Always learning, sometimes frustrating, usually successful, never dull, he made our work together enjoyable and rewarding. His influence will remain with me.

“ My heart felt sympathy goes out to Wrenette and the entire Weninegar family. In all the decades that I knew James, he was always a good friend and a trusted ally. No matter the circumstances, James always took the high road and encouraged others to do the same. While he may be gone from this life, he will forever remain in my heart and mind.

“ All my prayers and condolences for the extended Weninegar family. Though James had many passions, his family was his center and he bragged on you all constantly. I am truly very sorry for your loss.

James gave me my start at Alabama Power and pushed me to grow. I appreciate everything he taught me, every jab and sarcastic comment, every story and especially the opportunities that first job and his guidance afforded me. Proud to have been a part of his team.

“ I didn't work for James but I did many project with him. We used to say you work for James whether you know it or not. That was because he probably knew your job better than you. He was a good man and a pleasure to work with. I told him before I retired that I regretted not getting to work for him. - David McCary
