“ When I was a small child my Uncle Jimmy Barnhill & I were throwing Pepsi bottles across the ditch at my grandparents Norman "Doc" & Geneva Barnhill house. Mr. Minter was there visiting my parents Ray & Joyce Barnett. Uncle Jimmy "Bookie" threw his coke bottle; & coached me on mine. Well I let that coke bottle go & oh yes it went right thru Mr. Minster windshield. What a whooping I tired. Many many years later post 1995 I was at my grandfather's house again after his passing with my uncle; when he walked in with Rev. Minter. The Rev said do you remember me young lady? At which I apologized saying no; he said well my windshield & I have forgiven you. I started to cry all over again. For I knew who he was & his name I had never forgotten. He prayed with me & uncle Boop that day for grand daddy. I'm sorry I did not know he had passed. My respects would definitely been paid; and my condolences.
