Joseph Kyle Rooks will be remembered for many things from his Earthly walk. The first is his adoring, passionate love for his children and grandchildren which will last for lifetimes to come. There wasn't anyone who really knew Kyle that didn't understand his unending love and faithful devotion for his family. Kyle was a tremendous friend to so many individuals throughout his childhood and into his adult life. So many that accurately describing and naming his "extended" family couldn't possibly be numbered as stated above. Kyle enjoyed laughing and joking with friends, operating heavy equipment, riding big boy toys for a bit of adrenaline, staying covered in mud, supporting his children's ambitions and needs, and enjoying his life as much as he was possibly able to. He was a dedicated business owner that transformed moving specs of dirt into a tremendously successfully corporation, R & R Contractors, with the help of his beloved brother Kevin Douglas, his mother Mary Elizabeth, and his cousin Joyce Cardwell. Kyle had a compassionate and giving heart that craved peace for all. He noticed when life was out of order or becoming too heavy for others and never failed to hop in to assist. From helping families out at Christmas time, bills that were falling behind, filling the void of children who lost or had absent fathers, hopping on a tractor and moving dirt for friends who were in need, to devoting countless hours and supplies to refresh Munford High School Softball field and the entire Munford community. Kyle kept strong moral values that he instilled into his children that can never be shaken. He served as an unmoving rock (Pop Rock) to each one of them and countless of extended friends and family in their times of need. He will forever be remembered for all the good times, compassion, and mercy he shared with this world.

“ I just remember seeing Kyle around his grandchildren and you could just tell how much he adored them babies. Kyle was the type of person that would give you the shirt off of his back. He thought the sun rose and the moon set in his kids. He would tell me about at least 1 of them every time I saw him. He was very proud of everyone of you. And Kevin I know your going to feel lost but he's always going to be by your side. I just know y'all were so close. Everyone of y'all are in my heart and my prayers. The world has lost another good man.
