“ So sorry to hear about Josh. Waaaay too many memories to mention with him, Brooklyn, Austin, and my sister. He was always outspoken. Nanu asked him one time what the meaning of his WWJD bracelet was. His answer, What would Josh do... Of course. ..

“ My best buddy, Joshua always was my bud, growing up I was blessed with being a diabetic, he always wanted to know if I needed anything or if I was ok. His smile could melt anyone! If you where ever told by him that he loved you , you better bet he ment it. His heart was so big. You don't know how much you have touched others lives, yes you have had hard times but you overcame those times and we where all so proud of you. Rest in peace my little buddy. You, Hadley and aunt Wendy and so many more loved ones are and will be missed everyday till we see you again.

“ My thoughts are with the Freemans, family members and friends at this time. I remember "Rattleberry" mostly from a younger age. Sending my deepest condolences.

“ It's never easy to go through times like this. I pray God pours out an abundance of peace and grace on the family as they face these difficult days. Josh was so happy and seemed to be headed in the right direction. He will truly be missed by everyone. He is with his mom who loved him dearly as he did her. I'm sure there was a great celebration in heaven, Rest In Peace Josh.

“ So sorry for the family of Josh and his loved one Gina. My heart aches for all of them. I have lost brother Mother and Father and many friends and you never forget them. I just tell myself that God had better plans for them and I know that they are watching over me as Josh will watch over his loved ones. I truly believe Josh was trying to make a better life for himself and Gina. You could see the love in his eyes for her. He will now RIP with his Mother Wendy who dearly loved Josh. May God wrap his arms around all of his family and comfort them. RIP Josh 🙏🙏.
