

Joyce Barnett

October 25, 2015

Ms. Joyce Barnett died on Sunday 25th of October at her home. Her daughters were at her side as she took her final breath of life on this earth and entered into the kingdom of Heaven of our Lord and Savior. She was preceded in death by her Parents - Norman and Geneva Barnhill and her husband Emmett Ray Barnett Sr. She is survived by her Daughters Sheri L Gray(Brian) Theresa T. Villarreal and Son Emmett Ray Barnett Jr. Grandchildren - April Lopicollo (Danny), Robert Lopez (Shannon), Michael Villarreal (Tracy-Seth), Cheyanne Parker. Great Grandchildren - Chris Van Pelt, Sierra Barnett , Jacob Lopez , Lilianna Joy Lopez, Luca Lopicollo.

Tribute Wall

CS

“ My condolences to my sister and best friend Sherri I have known mama Joyce for any happy years and I'm deeply saddened to see her leave but I know she's in a better place. Sherri my heart goes to you on this road because you Wil need it during a heavy time I can't say it will be easier or better but just make the best of one day at a time. I love you and will always be there for you! Charity

Charity L Singleton - November 02, 2015 at 01:35 PM

RL

“ to my grandmother i love you and will always miss you. You brought this whole family together. With out you we would not exist so thank you for being our roots of our family tree i will love you always your grandson joe joe.

Robert Lopez - November 01, 2015 at 05:43 PM

DK

“ Mamma Joyce,
You were a wonderful woman with so much spunk and sass no one could compete. I cherished every day that I was able to come sit with you and sneak you that bowl of ice cream
:-) I hope that in the arms of your loved ones in heaven you are able to see those lives you have touched and how much it meant to us all.

To Sheri and Brian, and your family, I send my greatest condolences to you all at this time of loss and sorrow. There were hard times but each day that she smiled made it worth it. I am sorry for your loss.
Dawn Kobos and family.

Dawn Kobos - November 01, 2015 at 04:47 PM

JB

“ Sis, I missed calling and talking to you the last two Sunday's, it was one of the things that I did every Sunday when we got home from Church. I can still hear you ask, how Kris and Daisy are doing and where Daisy is at..... I know that you never thought when I was born and your were told that I was your baby to take care of that we would grow as close as we did as we got older because of you being the second child born and me the last born of ten!!!! I miss you terribly but am thankful that you aren't suffering anymore.... I know that one day when the LORD calls me home that we will once again be united with each other and our loved ones that are there in HEAVEN with you now!!!! The is a hole in my heart that is now filled with your memories.....I will not say goodbye.....only until we meet again.....I LOVE YOU SIS AND ALWAYS WILL!!!!!!
Boop, Kris & Daisy

Jimmy Barnill - November 01, 2015 at 01:54 PM

SG

“ mom;

Brian and I loved you and your passing has left our home with emptiness. The nights have gotten longer and we still find ourselves going to your room to check on you. Taz goes to your room every morning and sits there looking where you layed and scruffed and called him pretty boy. I wheel myself in there every night to say I love you still and just say it to you and my dad both now.. I love you both and no matter how much time shall pass the pain and the loss will never be any easier for me. But I know that my parents will be with me always in my heart; in my spirit; and in my home. take care of each other and kiss sassy and whiskey pete; gdaddys and gmas;uncle robert ;aunt sheila;uncle bud and frankie ;roger; granny crossley.....

===I KEPT MY PROMISE===

LOVE ALWAYS SHERI - BRIAN - TAZZ

sheri gray - November 01, 2015 at 01:29 PM