“ Lana was always such a happy person. We went out to eat once and she told me "You can have butter or you can have sour cream, but you cannot have both on your potato!" When I moved back to Alabama I was in Walmart and heard someone calling my name. I turned around and it was Lana. She came up and hugged me. I would go and visit her each time I saw her working at the bank. She gave the best hugs. I am so sorry for her passing at this very difficult time, but so grateful for the promise of eternity and the opportunities which await her. I loved her. She carried a sparkle of light that others saw and felt.
