“ I remember that when we were young, how everyone always loved her. She was everyone's favorite. I remember how precious our days were that we made flowers, crafted or just sit and talked. Yesterday I went upstairs to sew a couple pairs of pants, that the last time that I hemmed it was for her and she sit right there with me. I remember our last walk to her car, and our good byes.. I remember her telling me just how much that she loves her family. RIP Margaret. I pray for each one of you, now and all the days to follow. I love all of you guys .
