Ms. Harmon passed away on Sunday, June 12th at her residence after a short illness. Ms. Harmon was born on Christmas Eve, which was fitting for the gift she so generously shared with us all. She shared her life with each of us through work ethic, humor, life lessons, gardening, meals, hospitality, and her competitive spirit at the senior game competitions. 100 years of memories and milestones alike, she experienced the best and worst of times but remained steadfast in faith, family and friendship. She had participated in the Alabama Masters Games for many years and was inducted into their Hall of Fame. She competed through the age of 98 and in 2014, was named the Homecoming Queen.

Survivors include her daughter, Jerry H. Sparks of Anniston; son, Michael H. Harmon (Susan) of Rome, GA.; "other son" nephew, Jacky Sparks (Cheryl) and family of Anniston; grandchildren Paige Sparks Nash (Anthony) of Oneonta, R. Darren Sparks of Orlando, FL., Michael Shane Harmon (Tina) of Rome, GA. and Jennifer Harmon Headrick (Chris) of Rome, GA.; great grandchildren, Hugh and Emily Nash and Jagger Harmon.

“ Mrs. Maurice was a very special friend that I enjoyed being around and talking to. Even though I was her Sunday School teacher, she was the one who taught me. I will miss my sweet friend. My thoughts and prayers are with all of her family and friends. May God bless each of you. Audrey Cole

“ My heart is so heavy today. Heaven gained one of the sweetest angels. I had the pleasure and honor of knowing Mrs. Maurine for the past 8 years at the Oxford Library. In the realm of things that's just a brief moment in time of her 100 years, but she will never know the impact that she had on my life. I had the honor of personally giving her a 100th birthday party this past year and it was such a joy. You could always ask her what her secret was and she would say "God just blessed me" and while that was true, you know what, God blessed us just as much by lending us her for the last 100 years. I will miss you my dear friend. My thoughts and prayers are with all of her family.
