“ Annette was a very lively soul, and she could make you laugh. She was a wonderful aunt to me and a great sister to my dad, Russell. In fact, how my parents met was through Annette, and Sonja O'Kelly inviting my mother over for a slumber party in 1959 at my grandparents Reeder's home. Back then it was like the movie Grease and young people were innocent then. My parents met in the living room and talked.

They went out for a few months then married, and the rest is history. Annette was a great matchmaker. I will always treasure that story and attribute part of my being to her match making skills. Thank you, Annette.

My prayers go out to my cousins Wayne, Kim, Keith and their families.
