“ Marty was one of my first friends. We were so very young when we met. Marty and I were two of the first Blue Ponders, when our group grew to a few more fellows we were all inseparable. We would roam the streets of Blue Pond, stay outside till it was dark, go eat supper and meet out again. If we were granted permission we would camp out, then the fun would begin. Marty had such an imagination, he was hilarious. As we got older we played football together at Oxford, double dated together. We always liked girls from Saks. I think we just liked the ride in his Trans Am. Later after we all got older we kinda lost touch which makes me very sad. And now I am even sadder that I have lost one of my first and best friends. Marty was a good, good friend. Always loyal, always had your back no matter what. If you needed help he would come. I hope to see Marty again one day, on that day when all things on this earth conclude. Rest in Peace my good friend.

“ Remembering Marty was ahead of me in school but also as a fellow Oxford Yellow Jacket!! Prayers are with each of the family members as you adjust to your new normal without him. Praying he and each of you have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.
