Martin was quite an inspiration to me musically as well as a very close friend. I will miss greatly. It will be a thrill to get together again when we cross paths together in the Lords house.💕

Martin has been a pal since elementary school and we shared many childhood and teen adventures. His family are all amazing personalities and I'm so glad to have walked through life with them. Debbie, we lost our soul mates just three months apart and the grief is so intense I can't advise you how to manage the pain of your loss except to say, a merciful Jesus Christ wants to comfort you, so let him.
