“ I will miss you alot dad. Even though we didn't get to spend a lot of time together, you were still my dad and I will always love you. I remember one time when I was much younger and I spent the night with you at your apartment how we had toy soldiers that had parachutes on them and we would go to the top of the stairs and drop them and watch them parachute down. That was one of my best memories with you and I will always remember it and cherish it in my heart.

My name is Dylan and I am his first born son.

RIP Daddy I love you and miss you more than anything. My heart breaks now, but I know it will mend in time but never be completely whole again now you're gone.

Now its been 8 months. Time doesn't heal everything. Its like waking up everyday with a pain that can't be soothed or made sense of. I would give everything to have a chance to change everything. Matthew was the first person that was a fulfillment of love he gave me everything a mom could want and I do blame myself for not seeing what Matt was going thru and I am so sorry. I miss you so much son “ Matt was generous with his time and always had a smile for me. He was confident not cocky with hard to find skills. His work ethic, ambition and intelligence were top shelf. He will be sorely missed by all who knew him.
