

Sheila Clay Joubron

February 27, 1965 - December 30, 2015

The Celebration of Life for Sheila Clay Joubran, 50, of Jacksonville will be at 2pm on Sunday, Jan. 3, 2016 at Miller Funeral Home. Alan Murphy will be officiating the service.

The family will receive friends from 11am-2pm before the service. A private family entombment will be at Forestlawn Mausoleum immediately following the services.

Sheila passed away on December 30, 2015.

Sheila was beautiful and her life's story heart-warming. An angelic face who greeted everyone with a ready smile and a warm embrace. Her unfailing loyalty and devotion to family and friends was unquestionable. Sheila traveled extensively and loved to experience new places. She loved to shop and spend her Sunday's at the movies with her son KJ. Sheila was a devoted mother to her son and her loving pets. All who knew and loved her will miss Sheila.

Sheila is preceded in death by her grandparents, Charlie and Nevada Ponder and Floyd and Ima Clay.

She is survived by her son KJ Feheley, parents Derrell and Louise Clay, her brother Derry Clay, her sister Sandra Cheatwood (David Robinson), her nephews Scott and Clint Cheatwood, and several great nieces and nephews. Pallbearers will be Thom Cole, Jack Hicks, Michael Hildred, Scott Cheatwood, Clint Cheatwood, and David Robinson.

“ Sending my heartfelt condolences to the family of Sheila. I had the pleasure of knowing her in high school, and she was always so kind. I pray that God will comfort and guide you all during this difficult time of tragic loss. May God especially touch her son and help heal his pain. I'm lifting you all up in prayer and trusting God to supply you peace beyond all understanding as only he can.

May God Bless you,
Nancy Lett Gandee
