“ Nothing will quite compare to the joy of seeing “Nina” at Walmart. While she only babysat my brother and I for a few years, she remained a constant in our lives for a long time. She was always interested in what was new in our lives. She would always light up with a huge smile when she saw us and she remained a big supporter in our lives all through high school and beyond. She will be missed dearly but her smile, kindness, support, and generosity will never be forgotten.

“ Sylvia and my wife Pat Holcomb who entered heaven 3 years ago were best friends and graduated from Oxford High together in 1969. They remained great friends throughout their lifetime. Both were Christian women of great character, integrity and wonderful senses of humor. Their reunion will be special today in heaven. Sylvia, go rest high on that mountain and enjoy heavens bliss girl....Steve Holcomb
