“ Tina, our heartfelt condolences go out to you and your family. Terry was a great and gentle man. I know that this is a difficult time and wanted you to know that our personal prayers are with you and your family. I also wanted to share a poem by Mary E. Frye, that I find very special, yet it seems so simple, delicate, and appropriate, that I felt compelled to share it, please take a minute or two to read it, it is quite provoking, and helps in knowing that the memories are always there:

*Do not stand at my grave and weep.
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow,
I am the diamond glints on snow,
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.
I am the gentle Autumn's rain.
When you awaken in the morning hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush
of quiet birds in circled flight.
I am the soft stars that shine at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry,
I am not there, I did not die.

“ Terry taught me what a small world we live in. I met his father, Jerry, in my adult life and became immediate friends. The kind you feel like you have known your entire life. A few years later, talking to Jerry, we realize Terry was married to a childhood friend of mine. At that moment I realized, no matter how far we stray from the life we are born in, that we are all connected to each other in a very special way. Meeting Terry for the first time was the same as meeting Jerry. You just know you were supposed to meet him. He was one of those people that just seemed to have extra life living inside of him. I am so very glad to have met him. Certain people, no matter how brief their life, have the ability to really impact others by teaching them to love each other. Terry was one of those.

Never thought we'd be saying good bye...always thought you'd be with us forever! You truly impacted everyone you came into contact with. You always had a way of passing along wisdom and sometimes it may take days for it to hit you but it was always good and just what I needed. I loved the time I sat as your Administrative Assistant and daily got to see the love you possessed for your family and the way you encouraged your employees. It was great to see you encouraging them and then quickly on the phone going to battle on their behalf. You were a great supervisor and an asset to the Depot. Never will forget when a Abram was born how you just beamed for days and everytime his name was mentioned you lit up! I can't wait to know that kind of joy! I will see you on the other side..so not good bye but see ya later! I love ya brother! My condolences Tina, Christina, Chris, Chase, Abbie, Hanna, and Abram yall have always been so special to me I can't imagine the pain you feel. I love you all!
