“ When I worked at the bank and he would come in to see Deb, I always said “Hey Dad” and he always gave me a big hug & a smile, and conversation. For years I have always slowed down and looked over when passing by his house. Just checking to make sure all was good. My dad has been in heaven for many many years and I will always treasure my little memories of Mr Calhoun brightening my day and many thanks to Deb for “sharing” her dad with me. He will be missed.
