“ You will always be the love of my life. I miss you more than ever. I wish you could see how many people's life you have touched. We have so many good memories together I will always cherish them. I will miss your amazing smile and your sense of humor. You could make any one laugh. Going to an Auburn game will never be the same for me. I love you. Fly high my sweet angel and watch over all of us.

“ TC shared our love of dogs and would stay at our house and babysit our dogs when we were out of town. He was so wonderful with our Emma spent a lot of time making her laugh and playing with her when she was little. Today I found myself talking to him, he loved God and I know he is at peace. I will always love and miss him.

“ I remember his first little tool set that he got. He was only about 3 or possibly 4 yr.s old. He came to stay with us for a few hours that day. He had gotten vey quiet and I started looking for him . I found him in the kitchen packing up his little tools. He had a big smile on his face..I opened the door to one of the bottom cabinets and the door fell off in the floor. I tried the others and the same thing happened. TC had taken the every screw out of every one of my kitchen cabinets. Looked around at him and he still had that big smile on his face. He was so proud of what he had done. He has always loved working with tools and using his hands to make beautiful things. You couldn't help but love a sweet boy like that!! He was and will always be such a blessing in our life!

“ I'll always love you TC. The Boston accent when you were 2 years old, your laughter, happy disposition. As you got older you were such a dare devil, willing to jump in and try something new for the thrill of it. I loved our last day together in the hot Florida sun back in July. I wish I could fb you one more time, like a fb status one more time, send you text message one more time, just tell you I love you one more time, but even that wouldn't be enough.
